Thanks for the support from all our FRIENDS for making this club a success!

Welcome to Friends Outdoor, Hiking, and Camping Club. For over fifteen years, we have been adventuring into some of Arizona's most beautiful wilderness areas. In fact, we would like to think that we offer the most comprehensive selection of outdoor activities in Arizona. Our hope is to be the catalyst that gives people that "boost" that we all need to get out there and really SEE Arizona; meeting some new friends in the process. Each newsletter outlines hikes for a wide range of abilities from easy to strenuous. If you would like more detailed information on a hike, give the hike leader a call. If you are currently a Friends member, or interested in learning more about the club, please join us on a hike or at one of the monthly meetings.

RSVP hike leader via email, more detailed driving instructions will be returnedSelf organized carpooling in Denny's parking lot, SW corner of I-17 and Bell Rd. 7:00AM*MEET HIKE LEADER at Yavapai Vista trailhead, 8:45AM

Repeating last year's hike, but two weeks earlier for better fall colors. Sweeping panoramic vista of most of Sedona's major landmarks, this hike starts at the Yavapai Trailhead ($5.00 Red Rock pass required, available at the trailhead) and proceeds up the first of two moderate ascents on the Highline bicycle trail. Views open up to the east and north as we ascend to a saddle where Little Park and the Verde River Valley come into view. A moderate descent is followed by 1/4 mile of very steep descent on slickrock as we begin to circumnavigate Cathedral Rock. A short hike on the Baldwin Trail past the west of Cathedral brings us to the Templeton trail, which descends to Oak Creek. Lunch stop in the shade of the trees lining this area. After lunch, we ascend switchbacks for views of expensive homes in the Back 'o Beyond area. Continuing with a slight ascent around the North and East faces of Cathedral brings us to the Hermit trail, which continues back to the trailhead. Bring refreshments and something to BBQ at the hike leader's Sedona home at the conclusion of the hike. This is some of the best hiking Sedona has to offer. * Rated plus is for steep downhill

The Agua Fria National Monument is located about forty miles north of Phoenix, along the east side of Interstate 17. The Monument contains 71,100 acres (111 square miles) and more than 450 archeological sites. The pueblos on Perry Mesa were constructed using a technique known as "massed room block," in which field-stone walls stabilized with mud mortar were roofed over with timbers, sticks, mud and straw. The roofs have long since disappeared, however, and time, weather, and modern-day looters have reduced most of the walls to piles of rubble. They are still quite impressive: some of the sites contain over one hundred rooms, and are surrounded by a multicolored carpet of broken pot sherds. Many of the ruins have clusters of petroglyphs nearby, some of which contain thousands of images. There is also evidence of extensive agriculture over large areas of both mesas, including cleared fields and terraces and berms for controlling rain runoff for crop irrigation. On Saturday BLM volunteer Grace Ege-Moody will guide us into some of these hidden treasures that few get to explore. For those interested, we will camp that night near Horseshoe Ranch along Bloody Basin Road. Note access to these sites requires high clearance vehicles, but the hiking is easy.

MEET in Denny's parking lot, SW corner of I-17 and Bell Road, 7:00 AM

This perennial favorite is a walk circling a most picturesque lake located a short distance east of Prescott in the Granite Dells. It features trails that wind in and around gigantic granite boulders revealing breathtaking views of this unique lake. Some climbing is involved but the total elevation is limited. It is a great place for walking a dog, biking, and if it's not too cold, kayaking. We can choose to visit the village of Prescott and checkout one of their many restaurants after the hike.

TURKEY CREEK TRAIL #92 Day Hike - SedonaHike Leader: Kim Hemmersbach (hemmersbachkim@gmail.com)

Phone: 480-343-4509

MEET in Denny's parking lot, SW corner of I-17 and Bell Road, 8:00 AM Sharp

The seldom used trail offers vistas and interesting geology. We will start out on an old road to Turkey Creek Tank. The trail continues, crossing normally dry Turkey Creek and begins a gradual climb through pinyon pine and juniper. We will have a short, steep climb to the lip of House Mountain, a long extinct shield volcano. There are fine views of nearby red rock formations as well as more distant vistas north toward Wilson and Secret Mountains. The trail reaches the crest at nearly 3 miles and begins a gradual descent over basaltic lava. Soon the view over the ancient, heavily eroded caldera opens up and you can see the west vent as well from which the mountain derived its place name. We have options to continue exploring other geologic beauties of House Mountain. Afterwards, we will enjoy refreshments at a local Sedona establishment and talk about how we haven't finished our Christmas shopping yet.
